Ideation Phase
Brainstorm & Idea Prioritization

Date	3 march 2026
Team ID
Project Name	Product Positioning & Sales Performance Analysis
Maximum Marks	4 Marks

Brainstorm & Idea Prioritization:

- Step 1: Problem Statement:
    - "How might we analyse market data to identify the most effective Product Positioning strategy, ensuring our product reaches the right audience at the right price point compared to competitors?"
- Step 2: Idea Listing:
    - Market Segmentation: Grouping customers by demographics or buying habits.
    - Competitor Benchmarking: Comparing our features/pricing against others.
    - Trend Analysis: Visualizing which product attributes are currently in high demand.
- Step 3: Prioritization:
    - Do First: Visualizing the "Price vs. Quality" matrix.
    - Quick Win: Color-coding products by category for easy identification.

---

2. Empathy Map (The Product Manager/Marketer)

Since this project is about positioning, the "User" is likely a business owner or a marketing manager.

- Think & Feel: "I need to know where our brand stands. Are we perceived as a luxury brand or a budget-friendly one?"
- See: Overwhelming spreadsheets of sales data and competitor ads.
- Say & Do: "We need to find a 'gap' in the market where no one else is competing."
- Pain: Making expensive marketing decisions based on "gut feeling" rather than data.
- Gain: A clear visual map that shows exactly where the business can win.

---

3. Solution Architecture

1. Data Source: Product Positioning Dataset (Excel/CSV) containing sales, pricing, and category data.
2. Processing (Tableau): * Creating Calculated Fields for Market Share or Price Index.

- Data Cleaning to ensure all product names are consistent.

3. Visualization: * Positioning Maps (Quadrants): To see High/Low price vs. High/Low quality.
    - Category Dashboards: To filter performance by specific product lines.
4. Output: A strategic dashboard used for business decision-making.